

Possible Assault in OIOS Offices

i/c UN/DSS

Peter Gallo to: Michael Browne, Michael Stefanovic
Cc: Eric Bramwell, Dan Wilson

07/02/2014 02:48 PM

	Eric Bramwell	Interview
	Peter Gallo	Dear Sgt. Bramwell, That is all very interesting but could you start by te
	Eric Bramwell	You can refer to section 1.2 of the OIOS Investigations Manual f
	Peter Gallo	Dear Sgt. Bramwell, The OIOS Investigation Manual is no
	Eric Bramwell	Sir, I am not debating with you. Please state if you w

Gentlemen

Anyone who studied law at a University will be familiar with the fact that undergraduate law professors live in an academic world where color-blind pregnant ladies can reverse an 18-wheeler truck without a driving licence and run over somebody's pet tiger's tail, causing it to bite a passing unicyclist and this is the basis of the exam.

Anyone who actually practiced law in reality will be familiar with that very common defence proffered by the accused when invited to assist the Police with their enquiries: "It wasn't me" and that is the basis upon which all subsequent legal arguments will proceed.

Anyone who works in the strange world of OIOS should not be surprised to know that both of these have collided.

Or may not have collided.

I am off on leave. When I come back, I will pick up this matter and intend to pursue it as a bad faith complaint.

I will be available on the phone if anyone wishes to speak to me, I will be contactable (I believe) on +44 ~~7779 718 018~~
Obsolete UK phone number

Thank you

Rgds

P

Voluntary Statement 5-Feb-14.pdf

Memo PAG to Stefanovic and Browne (7 Feb 14).pdf

email Bramwell-PAG 040214-1637.pdf

email Bramwell-PAG 040214-0935.pdf