

BBC documentary 'The Whistleblowers; Inside the UN'

For the avoidance of any doubt, and in response to a number of questions I have been asked following release of this documentary I wish to clarify the following:

- 1 The “hands in the pants” audio recording, where Swanson described an indecent assault on a female D1, was made in a meeting of all the OIOS investigators in New York in February 2018. To the best of my knowledge; none of the investigators present expressed any reservations about the fact nothing was done to even interview the ASG who had assaulted the victim.
  - 2 Although there was speculation that that ASG – the “favoured son” - was Fabrizio Hochschild; that has never been proved and in the final analysis; I do not know their identity.
  - 3 I believe there are basically only two possible interpretations of the audio recording, either:
    - a) (If Swanson was telling the truth) it is evidence of Antonio Gutterres
      - i) being uninterested in a serious criminal allegation against one of his senior staff;
      - ii) not caring if women in the UN are sexually assaulted, even inside the Headquarters and, therefore
      - iii) being quite happy for the matter to be covered up and NOT investigated,
    - or, alternatively
    - b) (if Swanson was lying) it is evidence of him saying something false and clearly with defamatory intent, to discredit the Secretary-General - and suffering no consequences for it.
- I do not know which it might be, but I do not consider either to be acceptable.
- 4 I brought the matter to the attention of the Secretary-General on 7 June 2020 (i.e. two years ago) and, regardless of the interpretation of what Swanson said on the tape,
    - a) it is apparent that the Secretary-General did nothing about it, and
    - b) it is a matter of public record that Swanson was subsequently promoted to be ASG/OIOS in July 2021.
  - 5 I stand by the statement that I made on that program; I do believe the UN is riddled with corruption from bottom to top – but 'corruption' does not mean bribery with cash.
  - 6 I worked in OIOS for four years until 2015 when, disgusted with the management of the office and the institutionalised bias in what passes for a “justice system” in the UN; I let my contract expire without seeking its renewal. On the basis of that experience, and of reviewing numerous investigation reports in the years since, I believe OIOS and the other investigative bodies in the UN system to be a large part of the problem and not any part of the solution.
